Professional Summary

I wear a few different hats: Law student by day, and freelance content specialist & social media manager by night (and weekends).

I'm based in Nigeria. My core passion lives in writing and communication. As a freelancer, I've had the joy of working with various brands to refine their written content; proofreading, re-editing, and transforming drafts into engaging, polished works. On the social media side, I bring valuable ideas to the table to help brands build their presence, engage their audience, and grow meaningfully. Got a project or an idea you'd like to bring to life? I'd love to help

I'm a creative content creator and video editor with over two years of experience creating engaging, platform-specific content for Instagram and TikTok. I'm passionate about health, wellness, and lifestyle storytelling, with a strong blend of visual editing skills in CapCut Pro, strategic design using Canva and content planning. Proven ability to take ideas from raw concept to high-performing Reels, TikToks, and carousels.

Dedicated, organized, and fully equipped to manage high-volume daily content production in a remote environment.
